- Know Your Rights
 - Recruiting for this campaign is underway! Please share this blurb:
 - Interested in being part of a new initiative to make McGill a better place to learn? The Know Your Rights Campaign is a full-year project centred around improving students' access to their academic rights (found in documents such as the Student Assessment Policy) in order to ensure that education at McGill is as fair as it should be. There are three working groups each with a unique focus: researching the rights students currently have, advertising these rights to the wider student body, and advocating for better student rights. There are plenty of opportunities to get involved, no matter your interests or experience! Email Jacob Greenspon and artssenator2@ssmu.mcgill.ca if you're interested!
 - Email me at artssenator2@ssmu.mcgill.ca if you're interested!
- Renaming JD and Champagne Rooms
 - Voting today on the shortlist for the room names!

Committees (please send me an e-mail if you'd like any of the reports from committee meetings - working on finding a platform through which we can make all of them public - artssenator1@ssmu.mcgill.ca)

Senate

i) the Committee on Student Services (CSS)

- Met on October 10th & discussed the goals of each service operation
 - Highlights
 - Relocation and revisioning of Healthy McGill/Shag Shop
 - Discussed summer fee structure change (making it more equitable)

ii) the Subcommittee on Persons with Disabilities

- SQ; Waiting to find out meeting times from Chair

iii) the Committee on Enrolment and Student Affairs (CESA)

- SQ; First meeting postponed to Oct 21

AUS

iv) Faculty of Arts Council

- SQ;

SSMU

i) Accountability Committee

- Met yesterday, shall update orally

ii) Sustainability Committee

- SQ;

- Passed a motion regarding Traditional Territory Acknowledgement
- All Councillors received Equity Training woohoo!

Other

- Reached out to different student associations to begin work with SEDE's various projects
- Attended strategizing meeting on course evaluations - exciting stuff coming our way! Faculties now have to opt-in to the shortened period for course evaluations, namely because they specifically have strong views regarding the potential skewing of important information post-exam evaluation
 - Hoping to collaborate with other faculty associations on a video promoting course evaluations and their importance

Respectfully submitted,
