

SUMS report to AUS for February 10th 2016

- Last Friday we had free bagels in the mathematics lounge.
- SUMS will be buying two chairs and two couches for the mathematics lounge from IKEA after students gave feed back about improving the mathematics lounge.
- Working out the details for the Awkward Semi-Formal event (between math, comp sci and physics). In touch with ssmu about possible venues, right we estimate it to be roughly $50 a person, with SUMS subsidizing the price of a ticket to below $30.
- Possible women in mathematics and Pi day (march 14th) event.
- Possible ice-skating event.
