

Report of the Classics Students' Association (CSA) AUS Council (Feb 22, 2017)

Departmental Updates

- Internal: our VP Internal has resigned, as she will not be at McGill for the rest of the semester due to personal reasons.
 - We will not be holding by-elections to fill the position, since there is only 1 month of her term left. Instead, Internal duties will be shared among the current executives.
 - Elections for next year's exec are currently set for Mar 28.
- We are working on a possible Winter Apparel order, which will hopefully be confirmed sometime this week.
- Academic: shortlisted candidates for the joint Religious Studies/Classics faculty position are giving public lectures this month as part of the selection process.
 - Prof. Richard Last (York) visited on Feb 14, and Dr. Renaud Gagné (Cambridge) visited on Feb 21.
- Hirundo: the journal is coming together well, but with Arts 160 still out of our grasp, we are on the hunt for launch event venues.

Past and Upcoming Events

- We held a bake sale on Feb 10 in the Leacock lobby.
- On Feb 13, we hosted a Valentine's lecture series with the HSA in Arts 160. Thank you to the four lecturers, and to all those who attended!
- Colloquium: after consultation with Concordia and UdeM, we have decided to host the first day of the event at McGill. We have booked a presentation room, and are looking into food options.
 - Colloquium submissions are open until this Friday.

Our next meeting will be on Friday February 24, at 5:30PM in LEA 817.

Respectfully submitted,

Claudia Shek
