

Report of the AUS VP Academic - February 8th, 2017

Faculty

Committee on Student Affairs meeting Wednesday, will report orally. Doing consultations with various departments on our proposed new Faculty of Arts student assessment policy that I plan to bring to Faculty Council later this year. Will be meeting with the various student associations in language departments in the next couple of weeks-- Associate Dean Lach and I are working to improve the student experience in those disciplines.

Student Rights

Following up on some of the lingering concerns from last semester, the faculty has been responsive!

Academic Affairs Committee

Last meeting cancelled due to lack of attendance, we've added a new member and hope to be meeting again soon!

LPC

LPC is done for the year, the application is in and final for AUIFC!!!!

Essay Centre

Essay Centre is going very well this semester, if you or anyone you know is interested in volunteering for this semester, please don't hesitate to drop me or them an email (aus.essay.centre@gmail.com).

Prof Talks

Be on the lookout for our awesome prof talk en français on March 14th! Another prof talk on the 17th of this month!

ASEF

Received applications for ASEFC's consideration totalling a little over $100,000, we've got about $70,000 for the committee to allocate so there will be some challenging decisions for the committee to make.

Teaching Awards & Valedictorian

The Teaching Awards Ceremony will be held towards the end of March, but we're already collecting nominations! If your department has an awesome prof, TA, or advisor, please nominate them! Valedictorian applications are also open, please share with your department! These will be chosen by the same committee in March.
