- Flyer has already been published
- Sephardic Spaces is a new walking tour at the Museum of Jewish Montreal that focuses on the period of transition in the Montreal Jewish community between 1950 and 1970. We explore a contemporary immigrant neighborhood, Cote-des-Neiges, through the lens of Sephardic Jews arriving from North Africa and the Middle East. We will broadly examine the ways identities are shaped through the process of migration and the spaces in which new immigrants connect to their roots in the diaspora.
