

Report of the Department of English Student Association 22 November 2017

Affiliates

- TNC Theatre has begun their run of Ntozake Shange's For Colored Girls Who Have Considered Suicide When the Rainbow is Enuf directed by Munyaradzi Guramatunhu. This is the first all-black production at McGill. The play runs between Nov. 15th-18th, 22nd-25th at 7:30pm.
- Tuesday and Friday nights of the run feature a special edition of ARTiFACT, featuring work by black artists and a discussion with For Colored Girls actors and director.
- Our journal of moving images, Slate, has issued a call for submissions. See the facebook event for more details:
<https://www.facebook.com/events/151685972115758/>
- McGill's new journal of post-colonial studies has issued a call for editors. See the facebook event for more details:
<https://www.facebook.com/events/136564577105499/>
- Our premier undergraduate scholarly journal, The Channel, as issued a call for submissions. See the facebook event for more details:
<https://www.facebook.com/events/129751307741405/>
- The Veg creative magazine is holding their launch party at Psychic City on Nov. 24th. See the facebook event for more details:
<https://www.facebook.com/events/1747608085533857/>
- Scrivener creative review has issued a call for submissions.

Events

- Our literature stream representative Sanjna Navani is planning another creative writing workshop. See the facebook page for forthcoming details:
https://www.facebook.com/groups/742334659293811/?notif\_id=1511058831211193&notif\_t=group\_added\_to\_group

Miscellaneous

- We are in the process of crafting a mental health survey, in association with McGill Counseling and the OSD, to identify specific issues in our department.
- We are in the process of organizing further disclosure training for our executive team.

Respectfully Submitted,

Thomas MacDonald
DESA VP External

