Report of East Asian Studies Students' Association

General Updates

- We had a meeting on Friday November 22nd
 - We discussed the hiring of our new VP Finance
 - The application form will go out with this week's listerv
 - In terms of academic related events for next semester, we are thinking of doing a speakers series in collaboration with hopefully another department
 - VP Academic is responsible for contacting and reaching out to a few departments we had in mind for a possible collaboration
 - I have a professor who would potentially be interesting in being the speaker, I will be reaching out to her in the next few weeks
 - For our Lunar New Year event, we are still interested in doing something with the graduate students and will be contacting them with more details over winter break
 - I was able to finalize the price of merch last week, and we have decided in this meeting that EASSA will cover the base manufacture cost. The order form will be sent out in this week's listerv
- I attended the EAS' second department meeting of the academic year on Friday November 22nd also well
 - I gave a report on how EASSA has been doing the term and informed the department of the changes in the exec team that has been happening
 - I brought up EASSA's desire to formally have an office space where we can store things for the department, and hold meetings as well as office hours. However, due to the department's limited office space availabilities, this was rejected. The department is willing to work with us on finding possible storage space and offered their bookable conference room to us to for meetings and office hours, whenever that is available.

- The third department meeting will be held in January, 2020
- Unless we manage to hire a new VP finance, there are no other meetings planned for this semester, we will meet again when school restarts in January.
