- International Workshop on Boiotia

On Thursday, November 9, Professor Fabienne Marchand and Professor Hans Beck will host a one-day workshop: "The Dancing Floor of Ares. Local Conflict and Regional Violence in Central Greece" at Thomson House. The workshop is designed as a follow up to Professor Marchand international Boiotian conference in Fribourg. There will also be a public lecture by Claudia Antonetti (Venice) on November 7 (5:00 pm, LEA 8008) that addresses the concept and topic of regional violence: "Conflits régionaux et guerres globales: guerre, violence et pouvoir dans la Sicile ancienne". Professor Antonetti's visit is sponsored by the Italian Cultural Institute of Montreal. For more information, visit www.hansbeck.org/news.

- Round Table on Ancient Greek Program

Are you studying Greek at McGill? Have you studied it here in the past? We want to hear from you! Join us in Leacock 817 on Friday, November 10 at 2:30, for a round table discussing the Greek program here at McGill in order to air your thoughts, feelings, and concerns and have your voice heard! There will be timbits probably.

- Rostra Lecture Series

The Rostra Autumn Series will be held at 6:00, on Tuesday, November 14, in Leacock 817! The Rostra is an innovative new platform for Classics students to present ideas that push the boundaries of traditional Classical academia. Come out to hear three exciting talks on three thrilling subjects from three delightful human beings!
