

Economics Students Association: Report

- On the 30th of October (Monday) the McGill Economics Department hosted an academic & career conference for a newly launched masters program at the University of Central Florida, MSc.Economics (focus on Business Analytics). Our guest Prof.Paarsch from the UCF explained all the contents regarding the program at the event. Given his professional experience with Amazon for many years, the conference was interesting however was not that well attended.
- On the 1st of November 2017 (Wednesday), the ESA hosted Katarina Vitek from Rotman School of Management, University of Toronto to host an information session at McGill University regarding two specialized master's programs for new grads with strong quant skills - The Master of Management Analytics as well as The Master of Financial Risk Management.
